EVENTS ORGANIZED BY THE ELIE WIESEL NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR THE HOLOCAUST IN ROMANIA DURING THE LAST 2 YEARS
(COORDINATOR ELISABETH UNGUREANU)

October 12, 2012

Between Salvation and Extermination during World War II, international conference organized in partnership with the Swedish Embassy in Romania, SNSPA (National University for Political and Administrative Studies) and the Embassy of Israel (Bucharest).

October 30, 2012

"Cardboard Memories. National Heritage Preservation of the Deportation of Roma in Transnistria”, workshop organized in partnership with the “Romane Rodimata” Centre for Cultural and Social Research (Bucharest).

November 9-16, 2012

The second series of the teacher training educational program 'The Holocaust. Fighting against Racism and Xenophobia”, organized in partnership with the USHMM in Washington and the U.S. Embassy in Romania (Iasi). The event was attended by 32 teachers from the region. On May 19-23, 2013 follow-up seminars were organized in Bucharest, Brasov and Bacau by the Ministry of National Education and Yad Vashem.
November 20, 2012

'The Cultural Heritage of the Jews in Central Europe”, international conference organized in partnership with the Polish, Czech, Slovak and Hungarian Embassies (Bucharest).

December 9, 2012

''I take it upon myself to declare”, one woman theatre show followed by a workshop held in several Bucharest high schools on sensitive topics such as discrimination, poverty and the role of art in raising self-esteem (photo below).
March 6, 2013,

"The Holocaust, Romania, memory and responsibility”, workshop organized in partnership with One World Romania and the Czech Center (Bucharest). The event was attended by 25 teachers of history, humanities, social sciences and civic education (photo below).

March 8, 2013

"Anne Frank" student workshop, organized in cooperation with One World Romania and the Czech Center (photo below).
March 21-23, 2013

'The Holocaust. Fighting against Racism and Xenophobia”, seminar for school teachers organized in partnership with the Bacau Teacher Training Center (photo below).

April 17-19, 2013

'The Holocaust. Fighting against Racism and Xenophobia”, seminar for school teachers organized in partnership with the Bacau Teacher Training Center (photo below).
May 8, 2013

"The Role of DNA in the identification of victims of the Totalitarian Regimes" Sixty years later. DNA Week in Bucharest, workshop organized in partnership with the Institute for the Investigation of Communist Crimes and the Memory of the Romanian Exile (IICCMER) and National Geographic Romania, at the National Library. The event was attended by 20 high school students specializing in biology (photo below).

May 23′ 2013

"Educational Solutions to Fight against Racism and Discrimination in Romania", seminar organized in partnership with the Konrad Adenauer Foundation (KAS) for 20 history and social sciences school teachers (photo below).
May 31, 2013

"Persecution and Genocide of the Roma during World War II”, international conference organized in partnership with Sucar Drom at the “Bastille” Bookshop in Bucharest and attended by 70 students from three local high schools (photo below).

June 9-15, 2013

“The Holocaust. Fighting against Racism and Xenophobia”, second edition of the educational seminar on "Memory of the Holocaust, anti-racism and anti-Semitism” for school teachers organized in partnership with the New York Memorial Library in Surduc and Lugoj. The event was attended by 32 history and social sciences teachers from the region. (The first edition was organized in the same place on May 9-15, 2012) (photo below).
July 25 - August 8, 2013

“How was it possible? The Memory of the Holocaust in Romania,” summer painting camp (5th edition) organized in partnership with Yad Vashem. A group of 14 young artists attended the event, which consisted of two parts: a seminar (July 25-28) where historians, researchers and specialists helped them get familiarized with the topic and a workshop where they could create artwork on various Holocaust related topics (photos below).

October 10, 2013

“Right-Wing Extremism in Romania and Europe. Trends, structures, counter-strategies”, international conference organized in partnership with the FES (Friedrich Ebert Foundation) and SNSPA (National University for Political and Administrative Studies). The event was attended by students from SNSPA and the University of Bucharest.

April 2014

“About the Holocaust... in a different manner”, workshop organized in partnership with the Bucharest School Inspectorate for 5th to the 12th graders from several schools in Bucharest. The event included survivor testimonies and was followed by photo projections and a debate on the mass grave discovered in Popricani, near Iasi.
April – May 2014

“The Holocaust, the combating of racism and discrimination” teacher training session organized at the Teacher’s House in Bacau (photos below).